FROM THE FAR EAST

Interesting Letter From Henry P. Day

Henry P. Day, formerly of this city and at one time connected with the Journal, is now a resident of Beirut, Syria, and from a letter to C. C. Phelps, of this city, the Journal is permitted to make some extracts: "I may have written you from Rome or Naples; I have forgotten. I had a pleasant voyage from New York to Naples on the Cunard steamer, the Carpathia. Everything was very fine and nice and I made many agreeable acquaintances. I was in Italy twelve days, partly in Naples and partly in Rome, and saw much of interest, albeit it was very hard dealing with people and getting around, as I met very few who understood English, and I could not speak Italian at all and French very poorly.

"I had a horrid time going from the hotel to the steamer at Naples. There seemed to be no end to the people I had to deal with and pay, none of whom I understood. I kept following out the crowd and handing out money as requested until I had spent nearly $5.00. A fellow passenger told me the ordeal cost him only $2.20. The voyage from Naples to Beirut on the French steamer Oranien, of the Messageries Maritimes, was very disagreeable, although the weather was fine. About the only pleasant place on the boat was the upper deck, and about the only pleasant people on board was a party of English tourists, who took me with them for a delightful ride through Athens, and for an interesting walk in Constantinople.

"With two exceptions, so far as I met them, the officials and crew were surly and curt and it was difficult to get either information or favor. I would advise people to keep off the vessels of the Messageries Maritimes. The accommodations are poor and there is little spirit of accommodation.

"My brother met me on board the steamer at Beirut with one of Cook's men, and took me safely ashore. It was well he did so for there was an awful rush on the steps of the steamer and we were stalled there a minute or two, as people were trying to go up and down at the same time with their baggage and the natives were gesticulating and shouting and two of them really came to blows. Alfred and his family and his relations are all well. They are cultured delightful people, as are all the considerable Americans of the colony here, many of whom I have met. Alfred has a lovely home, a good, large stone house situated in a large garden full of trees, shrubs, vines and many kinds of flowers, fragrant with perfume, and all surrounded by a stone wall much higher than your head. In the wall is a great door which is kept locked. In the center of the house is a large court or hall paved with marble, into which most of the rooms open. The ceilings are unusually lofty. The court is used both as sitting room and hall, and I have seen larger courts in other houses which were simply enormous. It is a very pleasant, comfortable style of house, and the location in a garden within a high wall is lovely and secluded. It is the Syrian way and the privacy of it is very agreeable. There are over a dozen handsome college buildings of brown stone in beautiful grounds, superbly located on the brow of a hill overlooking the sea.

"I have attended field day exercises at which I noticed a great deal of beauty and style. Many of the ladies with very black hair and eyes, and rich color in their cheeks, attired in elegant European fashion, looked very charming, especially when they wore a black lace mantilla, falling over their shoulders from the top of their heads. Most of the students were dressed in European style, some altogether, but many wore red fezes on their heads. Most of them are quite fine looking. I attended amateur theatricals, given by the students, at which scenes from Macbeth, Othello and Hamlet were produced in costume quite creditably, albeit the English pronunciation sounded very queer. I attended a meeting of the Beirut Literary society, at which a paper was read on 'The Relations Between the Puritans and Indians in New England.' I also attended a very interesting meeting of the College Faculty club and have been present at several social functions, besides making a few calls and riding about some with my brother. This is a curious place; very oriental, and one sees many queer people and queer sights. There are three servants in this family, one man and two girls, all Syrians, excellent domestics, and conversation with them is in Arabic. The two children are nice looking and promising, though neither talks as yet. It is funny to see the little boy

This is absurd on its face. You might as well extract the active principles of wheat and make bread with them. VOICE RECITAL.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather a good audience gathered at Academy hall Monday evening to hear the graduating recital of Miss Cora Gordon Graham, pupil of Mr. Olds, of the Conservatory of Music, assisted by Miss Carrie Dunlap, violinist.

Miss Graham is always heard with pleasure and her recital last evening was an exhibition of musical accomplishment that delighted the audience present. The Roinecke number, with violin obligato, was especially good, being well suited to the performer, who gave the song a splendid rendition.

The playing of Miss Carrie Dunlap was an enjoyable feature of the program and added much to the pleasure of the evening. The accompanists were Miss Helen McDougall and Miss Katherine Sydnym.

The program was as follows:
Flower Song from Faust.....Gordon
It Was a Lover and His Lass.....DeKoven
With a Violin.....Greg
A Boat on the Waves Is Rocking.....Greg
Sons of the Pusta (Hungarian Fantasy).....Kela Bela
Song Without Words.....Schumann
He Came.....Franz
On Wings of Music.....Mendelssohn
Suleika.....Mendelssohn
Second Air Varie.....DeBeriot
Spring Flowers.....Roinecke

SUMMER TRIP UNSURPASSED ON THE CONTINENT.

The trip to Salt Lake City or to the Pacific coast via that point over the Denver & Rio Grande system, "The Scenic Line of the World," is the most beautiful in America. No European trip of equal length can compare with it in grandeur of scenery or wealth of novel interest. Then Salt Lake City itself is a most quaint and picturesque place and well worth the journey. Its Mormon temple, tabernacle, titling office and church institutions; its hot sulphur springs within the city limits; its delightful temperature, sunny climate and its great Salt Lake—deader and denser than the Dead Sea in Palestine—are but a few features of Salt Lake City's countless attractions. There are parks, drives, canons and beautiful outlying mountain and lake resorts. Imagine, if you can, a bath in salt water a mile above sea level, and in water in which the human body cannot sink. Inquire of your nearest ticket agent for low tourist rates to Salt Lake City, or write for information and copy of "Salt Lake City, the City of the Saints" to S. K. Hooper, Gen. Pass. REVIEWS WORK OF ASSEMBLY

Speaker Shurtliff Passes Out Bouquets and Comments on Measures That Were Passed by Legislature.

A solution of the difficulty which threatened to imperil the legality of the gas and electricity bill passed by the recent general assembly has been reached. Speaker Shurtliff has had a correction made in the journal of the house so that the records of both branches of the legislature show that the same measure was passed by each. As the house and senate journals are taken as final evidence of the legislation of each respective body, the gas and electricity act is now past the danger point.

After the bill giving authority to the city of Chicago to regulate the price of gas and electricity and to sell the surplus electricity of the municipality was passed, the measure was subjected to the scrutiny of attorneys representing the gas companies, as well as representatives of the state. It was found that while one clause of the senate bill read "electricity and gas," the same clause in the house bill read "electricity or gas." Representatives of the gas interests contended that this discrepancy was sufficient to invalidate the entire act. The action of Speaker Shurtliff in changing the house journal probably has ended all dispute on the subject.

In a statement issued Speaker Shurtliff briefly reviews the important work of the recent session and undertakes to distribute the honors due various members of the house for their activity in behalf of the particular interests. The statement follows:

SPEAKER'S STATEMENT.
"In the house, credit for the gas regulating bill is due Representatives Pendarvis, Church and McGorty. In the committees and on the floor of the house they did the work which resulted in the final passage of the measure. For the mass of legislation wanted by Chicago and secured by that city, credit is due to the strong delegation headed by Pendarvis, Shanahan, Church, Monroe, Kitchman, McKinley, Norden, Pearson, McSorely, Hill, Williams, Breidt, Clottenberg, S. E. and F. E. Erickson, McGorty and Burke.

"The legislature passed a number of bills of importance to miners and the men responsible for getting them through the house were McGuire, Drew, Isermann and Moran.

CREDIT FOR RINAKER.

"For the primary election law, the credit belongs to Lewis Rinaker, chairman of the house primary law committee. To Doctor Norden the civil service advocates owe what they secured from the legislature. To Pendarvis the people of Chicago should credit the municipal courts bill and the charter bill. With regard to charter legislation, it may be said that Chicago was given everything the city was ready to take. Every bill for which there was a demand was passed. "Judge succeeded in securing a needed amendment to the prison law and Rodman should be credited for the able manner in which the contingent expense committee work was handled. Trautmann on appropriations, Castle on judiciary, Arnold on revenue and Lindly and Coyle on education, did work which has brought results in the bills now being considered by the governor.

COLORED MEMBER COMPLIMENTED.

"One of the successful members of the house was Green, of Chicago, who secured passage not only for his anti-mob bill, but who was instrumental in working the anti-policy bill through. Representative Daley, of Peoria, was one of the ablest men of the house and deserves much credit not only for the election bill, which should simplify the work of future committees in handling election contests, but for his stand on the state gas bill and his hard work to secure for the rest of the state what is given Chicago. "Representative Kleeman secured the passage of an important act in the bill requiring biennial reports from the drainage board."

MAY CLOSE EARLIER.

At a meeting of the Barbers' union to be held Thursday evening it is expected that the question of asking that the shops of the city close at 6 o'clock one or two nights of the week will be brought up. Many of the barbers are in favor of such a move, but it is not known what the attitude of the proprietors will be.

Now that Wadsworth Bros. Chicago cigars are for sale by Armstrong & Armstrong you can get an all long Havana filled cigar for a nickel, a smoke that is better than the average ten cent, and as good as any cigar in their case.

Armstrong & Armstrong want every smoker in this section to try a Chico. They said the other night: "If you don't like the Chico, it's on us and we will not charge you a cent for it. This cigar is taking the place of ten cent cigars amongst the most critical trade, and we want every lover of a good smoke to come in and try a Wadsworth Bros. Chico."

If you know and enjoy a good cigar, you'll like the Chico. It is made for smokers like you, and you ought to get acquainted at once.

THE MIDNIGHT FLYER.

The originality of the dramatist in adopting actual occurrences, and by his art of enlarging on them and constructing a possible lot of situations with possible dialogue, and the interweaving of it into a play of human heart interest, is what has never been so cleverly done in recent years as by the author of "The Midnight Flyer," a play that has been seen and favorably received in every country of the globe. This success cannot be laid to chance, but solely to the strength of the play, which encompasses every passion of the heart, places them in the most intensely interesting situations, and plays with a master hand on the sympathies of the audience. Ed Anderson, the well known manager, has secured a brilliant company to produce "The Midnight Flyer" and it will be seen at the opera house to night. Prices: 25c, 35c and 50c.

FIRE ALARMS.

The house on North West street, owned by Joseph Mondosian and occupied by Ella Thompson, caught fire Wednesday night about 9:45 o'clock. It is supposed that the blaze was started by mice gnawing matches in the wall near the floor of the house. The fire department made a quick run and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before much damage was done. A still alarm was sent in to the department about 9:30 o'clock Monday evening from the Coffee meat market on East State street. A short circuit had formed and set fire to the ceiling of the room. The department extinguished the blaze, and the damage was slight.

REMEMBERED BY ARMY COMRADES

Birthday of Henry Maul of Arcadia Made the Occasion of a Delightful Gathering of Companions in Arms.

The birthday of Henry Maul, Sr., of Arcadia, was made the occasion of the reunion of the remaining members of Company G, First Missouri cavalry, in this vicinity Monday, May 16th.

The meeting was in the character of a surprise to Mr. Maul, who was not aware of the preparations being made by his estimable wife and daughters. A son, Henry Maul, Jr., took his father away from home Monday morning on pretense of getting his judgment of a horse which he wished to buy. In the meantime during the morning the army comrades of Mr. Maul and a few intimate friends of the family began to arrive and in due time all were present.

It was a complete surprise to Mr. Maul, who returned in the course of time, and entered upon the performance of his part of the function with a keen relish and genuine satisfaction after the greetings were over.

At noon the guests sat down to a most beautiful and sumptuous dinner; indeed, it would baffle the pen of old Epicurus himself to fittingly describe the wonderful variety and deliciousness of the repast. In short, it was such a meal as only the kind hostess and her fair daughters could provide to tickle the palate and satisfy the inner man.

After dinner singing patriotic songs, with Mrs. D. E. Kennedy at the organ and Miss Hazel Glenn, with violin, was an enjoyable feature for a time. And then came the presentation of a handsome hard wood rocker to Mr. Maul. Capt. J. E. Wright made the presentation in behalf of the friends in earnest, well chosen, heartfelt words, and Mr. Maul responded in fitting terms. Brief remarks were made by a number of comrades and friends bearing on the fraternal bond between old soldiers, the scenes and incidents of army life and the perpetuation of birthday reunions in the future.

Greetings for the occasion from Comrade C. W. Mathews, who is confined to a sick bed, were communicated, and the kind hostess remembered Mr. Mathews substantially with a share of the good things. Before separating Mr. R. E. Clark took kodak pictures of the entire party in several different groupings.

Those who enjoyed the pleasures and festivities of the day were:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maul, Sr., and daughter, Miss Rosa, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maul, Jr., and children, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wright and daughter, Mrs. W. R. T. Masters, George W. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Glenn and daughter, Miss Hazel, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Melton, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Litter, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Petcher, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Valentine and daughter, Mrs. D. E. Kennedy and daughter, Miss Lillie Moss and R. E. Clark.

The members of Company G, First Missouri cavalry, are as follows: Henry Maul, J. E. Wright, G. W. Moore, C. R. Taylor, W. H. Jordan, G. R. Glenn and J. W. Melton.

The day was one of real, hearty, sincere enjoyment and one long to be remembered by those present.

A Comrade.

How a Man's Nose Supported Him.

There was once a man who was deaf and dumb and in consequence had difficulty in earning enough to support himself. As often occurs, those who are deprived of one sense have another in an unusual degree. This was the case with this man. He had a sense of smell so remarkable that he became an expert in detecting the presence of oil wells. His nose was purchased by a big company (naturally the man himself went along with his nose), and he managed to eke out an excellent living.

Big Sister's Boy.

A little four-year-old girl while calling on a neighbor was asked, "Is Mr. Hutchinson your sister's beau?" She did not make any reply, but on arriving home she ran to her sister and eagerly inquired, "Eva, is Mr. Hutchinson your ribbon?"

A Crockery.

A bumblebee and a pollywog were circling an old bullfrog. Said the bee: "No doubt it's a famous frog."

But I wish you'd give our friend a poke And ask him to stop that senseless croak." The serious eyes of the old bullfrog Were turned on the bee and the pollywog. And the awkward silence he slowly broke. By calmly repeating his little joke. And maybe you'll find some other folk Who love, like the bullfrog, to sit and croak.

CITY COUNCIL IN SPECIAL SESSION

Interurban Franchise Ordinance Considered at Length Monday Evening—Final Action Postponed Until Next Regular Meeting.

The city council spent three hours in special session Monday evening, discussing the Alton, Jacksonville & Peoria interurban franchise, and after considering the ordinance section by section deferred action until Thursday evening, the next regular meeting of the council.

Messrs. J. W. Page, A. O. Auten and J. B. McGrath, of Jerseyville, representatives of the enterprise, were present and took part in the proceedings. James Smith and Elvius McGhee, objectors to the granting of the franchise, were also present and spoke against the franchise on the ground that the street was too narrow.

George E. Mathews, who owns property on the street, spoke briefly but to the point and urged the granting of the franchise, stating that it was in the line of progress and that results elsewhere had shown the immense advantage of having interurban lines.

Mr. Page was the principal spokesman for the representatives of the road and he was frank in his statements, saying that the men behind the proposition were sincere and that they had canvassed the local field, obtained a majority of the frontage along the proposed route from the property holders and were now asking the council to grant the request of the property owners and pass the franchise ordinance. The question was raised by the objectors present as to the validity of some of the signatures on the petition and the city engineer was appealed to, and his statement, which was detailed and had been made from a careful investigation, showed that the premises considered there was a majority of frontage in favor of the ordinance of over 1,000 feet.

Ald. Capps offered an amendment to section 1 of the ordinance compelling the road to not only repair the pavement torn up for the purpose of building the road, but also providing for a rebate to the property owners of the amount of pavement torn up and for which the property owners had paid by special assessments. Mr. Page and his colleagues asked time to consider the matter, but after a brief conference agreed to the amendment provided the members of the council demanded it.

Ald. Hargrove wanted a bond from the company showing good faith, but Mr. Auten stated that this was an unusual demand and that in view of the concession already made by the company he hoped a bond would not be insisted upon.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

The city council met in special session Monday evening, Mayor Davis in the chair and all members present except Ald. Hildreth.

The clerk read the call, stating the object of the meeting to be the consideration of a franchise to the Jacksonville, Alton and Peoria interurban railroad.

Ald. Johnson suggested the ordinance granting the franchise be taken up section by section and discussed.

Ald. Goveia wanted the ordinance read as a whole first.

Ald. Capps seconded the motion of Ald. Johnson and the same carried.

After the reading of the first section, Ald. Cobb objected to the entrance on East street, and Ald. Goveia agreed.

Ald. Goveia wanted the names of property owners on South East street who had signed the petition asking to have the franchise granted read, and the mayor read the list, showing a majority of frontage of 1,682 feet.

The clerk then read the names of property owners on the same street who were objectors.

Ald. Cobb moved street be re-canvassed. Ald. Goveia seconded.

Ald. Johnson spoke against the motion, saying he thought this was an unfair hardship and asking too much of the interurban company.

On roll call the motion was lost. Alds. Cobb, Ticknor and Goveia voting aye.

Ald. Capps offered an amendment to section 1 of the ordinance, which compels the interurban company to rebate to the property owners the amount of pavement assessments which has already been paid by the property owners and which has been assessed against their property for pavement purposes.

The same carried. Ald. Kennedy voting nay.

Ald. Johnson, seconded by Ald. McGinnis, moved the passage of the ordinance.

Ald. Babb moved as an amendment, seconded by Ald. Goveia, that the matter be laid over until the next meeting.

On roll call the amendment carried. Ald. Kennedy voting nay.

Council then adjourned.

College Basketball Rules.

The president of the Intercollegiate Basketball Association has appointed a committee which is to meet at the University of Pennsylvania May 20 and 27 to revise the rules of the game. In conjunction with the rules committee meeting there will be a general convention of representatives from all of the colleges in the country possessing basketball ball teams for the purpose of organization.

This meeting will also be held at the University of Pennsylvania and will occur at the same time as the intercollegiate championship track and field games. Among the changes in the rules which will be agitated are the following:

Lengthening of the game by calling for twenty-five minute halves instead of the present two twenty-minute periods.

Change in the size of the playing courts, raising the minimum size from 2,400 square feet to 3,000.

Elimination of the rules which give the referee power of awarding a point when a player is fouled while shooting for goal.

Changes in the method of scoring from foul, which will be brought about in one of two ways—viz, either lengthening the foul throwers' restraining mark from fifteen to twenty feet or else altering the ratio of the value of the field and foul goals, making field goals count three points and foul goals as one.

WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

A. A. Horron, of Finch, Ark., writes, "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs, colds and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

HAS RIPE TOMATOES.

John Bell, of South Clay avenue, claims the distinction of being the only person in the city who has ripe tomatoes growing in his garden. Many of his friends were inclined to doubt his veracity when he recently made the statement that such was the fact and desired to be "shown." Accordingly they were invited to his residence and there found growing in the garden a species of dwarf tomato plant, with tomatoes not only ripe, but over ripe, each about the size of a large marble. They still claim that the plant was started in a hot house and then transplanted to the open air; but whether such is the case or not the owner refused to say.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

O. L. Hill is Promoted—Will Be Travelling Freight Agent of Alton—Superintendent Berry of Burlington Here—Personal Mention—Shop Notes.

An Alton circular dated May 12th has been issued by the traffic department of the road, announcing the appointment of Mr. Oscar L. Hill, of this city, to the position of traveling freight agent with headquarters at Peoria. The appointment became effective Monday, but it is understood Mr. Hill will remain in charge of the passenger and freight business of the local office until his successor is named.

It is not known who will succeed Mr. Hill, but it is rumored that the business of the Alton has grown to such an extent that the office of freight and passenger agent will be separated and the work formerly done by Mr. Hill will be divided between two men.

Under Mr. Hill the Alton's interests in Jacksonville have been well looked after and his promotion will not only be welcomed by his friends here, who are legion, but the advancement is certainly a reward of merit.

In season and out Mr. Hill has been alert and to indefatigable zeal has been added an ability and discretion that has made the Alton popular with passenger and freight patrons.

Coming to Jacksonville a little over ten years ago, an entire stranger, Mr. Hill will go away with the best wishes of hosts of friends who have at all times found him an agreeable gentleman, one in whom no confidence has been misplaced, and a man, who, aside from his business interests, has been for progress and the welfare of the city. In church and social life he has been prominent and in musical circles he is well known.

While their departure from this city will be regretted, Mr. Hill and his estimable wife will carry with them the kind regard of friends who will unite in wishing them continued success in their new home.

An important order was issued Saturday by the Alton management. It applies to physical examinations of applicants for employment in the road service. In the past the company has been requiring applicants to pay the expense of physical examinations by the physicians engaged by the road, and regularly on the staff, the fee being 50 cents. This fee has been charged up to the applicant, whether he passed the examination or not. By the new order of things, effective at once, the applicant is exempt from this payment in case he is rejected. The subject has been up for discussion for some time and it was finally decided that it would be only fair to candidates for employment who were turned down that they should not be required to pay this fee. The expense hereafter will be borne by the company, except where the applicant is accepted, when he must pay the fee out of his own pocket.

GAVE LAST RECITAL

Concluding Number in Concert Series by Jeffries Band Proved a Delightful Musical Event—Soloists Greeted With Favor.

The sixth and last of the 1905 recitals of Jeffries' Concert band was given at the Grand Monday evening before a crowded house. The rainy weather did not have a deterrent effect upon the lovers of band music, who took advantage of the last opportunity of the season to hear the Jeffries' band in recital.

The program was an unusually attractive one. Miss Corinne Musgrove, soprano, Miss Catherine Dickens Cole, reader, Miss Edith Morgan, violinists, and Misses Phoebe Jefferson Kroider and Lulu Maude Eldredge, accompanists, assisted, and all were received with marked favor, every number given being accorded an enthusiastic encore.

Of the band numbers the overture from William Tell and the descriptive piece, "A Hunting Scene," were especially well received and were encored a number of times. The saxophone quartet also made a big hit with the audience.

Director Charles Curtis Jeffries adorned the occasion with his gorgeous white uniform, and his appearance upon the stage was greeted with a vigorous round of applause.

The program was as follows:

WON FROM PEORIA

Distillery City Team of Ball Tossers an Easy Mark for Locals—Score 14 to 1.

Despite the cold and windy weather a good crowd gathered at the West Side park Sunday to witness the game between the locals and a Peoria team. The locals were in such good form that it was really a shame they did not have a strong team to go up against, for if such had been the case the fans would have seen a good exhibition of the national game. As it was, the game was simply a matter of base running for the Jacksonville team, who piled up a score of 14 to the visitors' 1. Abernathy was in the box and showed his best form. He developed a wonderful speed, which made the hits of the visitors few and far between. His support was also all that could be desired, and in addition he fielded his own position in a first-class manner. Magill did the heavy hitting for the locals, sending the sphere at one time about fifty yards above the center fielders' head. He failed to make good in the running, however, and was caught on third.

The visitors scored but once, in the fifth inning. Thorne sent a two-bagger to right field, which was carried by the wind out of McGrath's reach. Cady hit the ball, advancing Thorne to third, and he scored on Billwanger's single. The score:
